

ABOUT THE VISITING SCHOLARS PROGRAM

Every year, the Minda de Gunzburg Center for European Studies hosts a number of Visiting Scholars from the United States, Europe and other parts of the globe. This year, CES welcomes 26 Visiting Scholars from eight European countries, as well as Japan, South Korea and the United States. Their diverse specializations reflect the interdisciplinary spirit of the Center.

Visiting Scholars are admitted on a competitive basis for a period of at least three months (two of which must be during the academic year) and up to one year in residence at the Center. The CES Visiting Scholars Program offers post-doctoral social scientists and historians the opportunity to spend up to one year at Harvard for independent research on Europe or transatlantic relations.

Visiting Scholars benefit from the Center's intellectually stimulating environment by:

- engaging with CES faculty, graduate and undergraduate students
- participating in the Center's study groups, seminars, and conferences
- taking part in a weekly Brown-Bag Lunch Seminar that allows them to present work in progress and receive feedback from colleagues
- access to Harvard's extensive library resources

Applicants range from postdoctoral fellows to senior scholars. Except for the John F. Kennedy Fellows, CES does not provide funding for Visiting Scholars; they are expected to have their own source of funding such as sabbatical salary, grants from their home governments, or other private organizations.

ABOUT CES

The Minda de Gunzburg Center for European Studies (CES) was founded in 1969 at Harvard's Faculty of Arts and Sciences to promote the interdisciplinary understanding of European history, politics, economy and societies. Its mission is to:

- foster the study of and innovative research on Europe among Harvard faculty as well as graduate and undergraduate students
- facilitate the training of new generations of scholars and experts in European Studies
- serve as a forum for vibrant discussions on European history and contemporary affairs which nurture the exchange of ideas across disciplines, sectors, generations, and across the Atlantic.

Minda de Gunzburg
CENTER FOR EUROPEAN STUDIES at Harvard University

27 Kirkland Street at Cabot Way
Cambridge, MA 02138
617.495.4303
ces@fas.harvard.edu
ces.fas.harvard.edu
@CES_Harvard

Visiting Scholars 2017-2018

BAŞAK BILECEN

Assistant Professor of Sociology
Bielefeld University, Germany
John F. Kennedy Memorial Policy Fellow

Residency Dates
September 1, 2017 - June 30, 2018

Project
Personal networks of Chinese international students: A structural and comparative analysis

JENS BLOM-HANSEN

Professor of Political Science,
Aarhus University, Denmark

Residency Dates
March 1 - June 30, 2018

Project
The core of the union: The EU Commission and the regulation of Europe

TOM CHEVALIER

Associated Researcher, CEE & LIEPP, Sciences Po, France
German Kennedy Memorial Fellow

Residency Dates
September 1, 2017 - June 30, 2018

Project
Bringing Rokkan back in. Explaining the French political economy in comparative perspective

BEN CRUM

Professor of Political Science,
Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam,
The Netherlands

Residency Dates
February 1 - July 1, 2018

Project
Pluralist Democracy in an Era of Internationalization

ALBERT DOJA

Professor of Sociology & Anthropology,
University of Lille, France

Residency Dates
September 1, 2017 - August 30, 2018

Project
European integration and the migration challenge: Cultural encounters, core values, and identity transformations in Europe

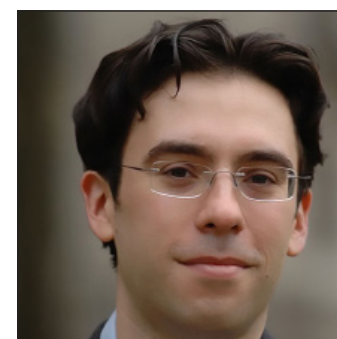

TOM PHILIPP DYBOWSKI

Post-doctoral Researcher, Institute of International Economics,
University of Münster, Germany

Residency Dates
September 1, 2017 - March 1, 2018

Project
The ECB's monetary pillar after the financial crisis

JEREMY EICHLER

Classical Music Critic,
The Boston Globe

Residency Dates
September 1, 2017 - May 31, 2018

Project
Music as a medium of cultural memory in postwar Europe

LUKAS HAFFERT

Senior Researcher,
University of Zurich, Switzerland
John F. Kennedy Memorial Fellow

Residency Dates
September 1, 2017 - June 30, 2018

Project
The fiscal policy of comparative capitalisms

LENA HIPPI

Head of "Work and Care" Research Group, Berlin Social Science Center (WZB),
Germany

Residency Dates

February 1 - July 31, 2018

Project

Paid and unpaid care work in Europe and the U.S.

CHRISTIAN IBSEN

Assistant Professor of Sociology,
University of Copenhagen, Denmark

Residency Dates

September 1 - December 31, 2017

Project

Markets, institutions and sensemaking – Explaining employer collectivism in Sweden and Denmark

YOHEI NAKAYAMA

Professor of European Political History,
Faculty of Law,
University of Tokyo, Japan

Residency Dates

September 1, 2017 – March 31, 2018

Project

Welfare states that have reshaped
European party politics

JON STEWART

Radcliffe Fellow 2016-17,
Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study,
USA

Residency Dates

September 1, 2017 – January 14, 2018

Project

Hegel's theory of subjective freedom and the challenges of globalization and multiculturalism for the European Union

IVANA ISAILOVIC

Emile Noel Fellow,
New York University USA

Residency Dates

September 1, 2017 - June 30, 2018

Project

EU economic governance and family laws and policies

AYŞE KADIOĞLU

Professor of Political Science,
Sabancı University, Turkey

Residency Dates

January 15 - June 15, 2018

Project

Politics of opposition in hybrid regimes: The cases of Venezuela, Turkey and Poland

IVANA STRADNER

Post-Doctoral Fellow,
University of St. Gallen, Switzerland

Residency Dates

September 1 – December 15, 2017

Project

International Law in times of the European
"New Realism"

JACEK TOMKIEWICZ

Assistant Professor of Economics,
Kozminski University, Poland

Residency Dates

September 15, 2017 – June 15, 2018

Project

Income distribution in the enlarged EU

JONG-HWAN KO

Professor of European Studies, Pukyong National University, South Korea

Residency Dates

January 13, 2017 - December 31, 2017

Project

A comparative study on the Trans-Pacific Partnership (TPP) and the Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership (TTIP):
U.S. Interests and Impact

EWA KOPCZYŃSKA

Assistant Professor of Sociology,
Jagiellonian University, Krakow, Poland

Residency Dates

September 1, 2017 – May 31, 2018

Project

Food fears and food dystopias as legitimation of alternative supply strategies in Eastern Europe

HELEEN TOUQUET

Lecturer, Leuven International and European Studies,
KU Leuven, Belgium

Residency Dates

March 15 – June 30, 2018

Project

Male victims of sexual violence and the politics of victimhood in the Western Balkans

EZGI YILDIZ

Postdoctoral Fellow,
Carr Center for Human Rights Policy,
Harvard Kennedy School

Residency Dates

September 1, 2017 – January 10, 2018

Project

Understanding judicial policies for norm development: The case of the European Court of Human Rights

KERSTIN MARTENS

Associate Professor of International Relations,
University of Bremen, Germany

Residency Dates

February 1 – May 31, 2018

Project

The appeal of numbers?
Measurement and standardization in federal education systems

STEFFEN MAU

Professor of Macrosociology, Humboldt University of Berlin,
Germany

Residency Dates

February 15, 2018 – August 10, 2018

Project

The illusion of meritocracy

REGINE PAUL

Postdoctoral Research Fellow, Law and Society Unit, Faculty of Sociology,
Bielefeld University, Germany

Residency Dates

September 1, 2017 – June 30, 2018

Project

Rationalizing the semisovereign state?
Risk-based regulation in Germany

KATJA MÖHRING

Assistant Professor for Sociology of the Welfare State,
University of Mannheim, Germany

Residency Dates

September 1 – December 31, 2017

Project

Citizens' support for gender equality in leadership positions across Europe – historical roots of attitudes and affirmative action policies today

VASSILIS MONASTIRIOTIS

Associate Professor of Political Economy, European Institute, London
School of Economics, United Kingdom

Residency Dates

September 1 – December 31, 2017

Project

Between government failure and failed government: the Greek-Eurozone crisis in analytical perspective